ASCE Greater China Section Awards

The ASCE Greater China Section is proud to recognize outstanding achievements, leadership, and contributions to the field of civil engineering through its biennial awards program. These awards honor individuals, projects, and student participants who have demonstrated excellence in research, practice, leadership, education, and service within the civil engineering community in Greater China.

The awards are designed to celebrate a wide range of accomplishments, including:

- Professional Achievements: Highlighting contributions by engineers, researchers, educators, and practitioners who have advanced civil engineering through innovation, leadership, and service.
- Student Excellence: Recognizing exceptional student leadership.
- Industry Contributions: Acknowledging exceptional projects in civil engineering practice.

Each award has specific eligibility criteria and nomination requirements, providing opportunities for students, young professionals, seasoned engineers, advisors, and project teams to gain recognition for their contributions to the field.

We encourage all eligible individuals and organizations to participate in this prestigious program, which not only rewards excellence but also fosters the growth and development of the civil engineering profession in Greater China.

The application deadline is November 15, 2026 (Beijing Time 23:30). Any incomplete or late application will not be considered.

For more information, please contact Ir. Hao Eric, JIANG of the ASCE Greater China Section Awards Committee at jianghao.yh@gmail.com or 852- 67483736.

President's Medal Award for Distinguished Service/Achievement

The ASCE Greater China President's Medal Award for Distinguished Service/Achievement is a discretionary honor conferred by the ASCE Greater China Section. This medal recognizes ASCE members who have demonstrated extraordinary, selfless service directly contributing to the ASCE Greater China Section, or achieved outstanding, landmark professional accomplishments in civil engineering that bring exceptional distinction to the ASCE Greater China community.

Eligibility and Rules:

1. Distinguished Service: Sustained and extraordinary service or leadership that has significantly enhanced the growth, operational excellence, visibility, or community engagement of the ASCE Greater China Section.
2. Distinguished Achievement: Pioneering engineering innovations, landmark research breakthroughs, or exceptional professional milestones that elevate the technical stature and reputation of civil engineering in Greater China.
3. This award represents a special mark of appreciation conferred at the discretion of the Section President and the Awards Committee to honor extraordinary service or professional distinction.

Membership Requirement:

The nominee must be an ASCE member in good standing at the time of application.

Application:

No standalone application is required.

Applicants submitting for any regular awards (using Form A or Form B) who wish to be considered for this honor should explicitly highlight their special service or outstanding achievements within their submission. The Awards Committee and Section President will review and select recipients directly from the regular award application pool.
